The Western Australian Underwater Photographic Society (WAUPS) is a non-profit organisation, which was established in January 1984. The aims of the Society are:

- 1. To promote an improvement of underwater photography amongst its members.
- 2. To promote underwater photography in the community.
- 3. To encourage an understanding and preservation of the marine environment.
- 4. To promote an exchange of skills and ideas from within the society and from external bodies.
- 5. To have fun and enjoy socialising, diving and photography.

To achieve these objectives, WAUPS holds regular monthly meetings where members, guest speakers and visitors exchange ideas and information. The topics include practical and theoretical sessions in photography (for both the novice and experienced photographer), marine biology lectures, slide presentations of dive areas and trips, competitions and evaluation of photographs and films and in fact anything that may be of interest to photographic divers.

Other activities include dive outings, underwater and land photographic competitions and social events. The distribution of a bi-monthly newsletter keeps members up-to-date with the society's activities, forthcoming national and international competitions, technical information and local news.

A club library and property loan/hire service is available to members; equipment includes slide projectors and screen, light box, audiovisual and duplication equipment. Also a photographic index is continually being expanded to aid in the identification of marine life, and to supply slides for presentations, posters, calendars and identification books. We also have a laminated selection of member's prints, taken purely in Western Australia, this is available for display purposes.

Society meetings are conducted at 7:45pm on the FOURTH TUESDAY of every month. The venue is the INDIAN OCEAN HOTEL, 27 Hastings Street, Scarborough.

Anyone wishing to visit or join the Society is invited to attend a meeting or to contact and/or send membership fees to WAUPS by post
